Thought for the Week:

“The Lord manifests Himself to those who stop for some time in peace and humility of heart. If you look in murky and turbulent water, you cannot see the reflection of your face. If you want to see the face of Christ, stop and collect your thoughts in silence and close the door to your soul to the noise of external things.”

Solidarity in freedom:
Religious Freedom
Week –
June 22 -
June 29:

“Solidarity

means much more than engaging in sporadic acts of generosity. It means thinking and acting in terms of community” (Fratelli tutti, 116). Religious freedom allows the Church, and all religious communities, to live out their faith in public and to serve the good of all. Beginning June 22, the feast of Saints Thomas More and John Fisher, the USCCB invites Catholics to pray, reflect, & act to promote religious freedom. Join us June 22-29, as we pray, reflect and take action on religious liberty, both here in this country and abroad.

June 22: Pray that children waiting to be placed in a loving home and the caregivers who serve those children will find strength and support from the Church.

June 23: Pray that God would continue to grant Catholic institutions the wisdom and courage to serve a world suffering the effects of the COVID pandemic.

June 24: Pray that the dignity of all people will be respected in our country.

June 25: Pray that Christian witness in the face of attacks on our churches will convert hearts to faith in Jesus Christ.

June 26: Pray for our Catholic sisters and brothers who are suffering in Nicaragua.

June 27: Pray that governments would respect the consciences of all people who care for the sick and vulnerable.

June 28: Pray for Christians in Iraq, and that people of all faiths in the land of Abraham may live in peace.

June 29: Pray that Christians will have the courage to speak the truth with kindness and clarity, even in the face of adversity.

On the day that Christians around the world celebrated the Solemnity of the Body and Blood of Christ, Corpus Christi, Pope Francis reflected on the gift of the sacrament of the Eucharist and invited believers to make their own lives gifts, just as Jesus did. Speaking to pilgrims gathered in St Peter’s Square for the Sunday Angelus and to all those following through the media, the Pope reflected on the narrative of the last Supper as recounted in the Gospel of Mark (Mk 14:12-16, 22-26).

“The words and gestures of the Lord touch our hearts: He takes the bread in his hands, pronounces the blessing, breaks it and offers it to the disciples, saying: Take; this is my body”, the Pope said. With great simplicity, he continued, Jesus gives us the greatest sacrament in a humble gesture of giving and of sharing.

Explaining that at the culmination of his life, Jesus “does not distribute an abundance of bread to feed the crowds, but he breaks himself at the Passover supper with the disciples,” and He shows us that that the aim of life lies in self-giving, that “the greatest thing is to serve.” Reflecting on how we find the greatness of God in a piece of bread, “in a fragility that overflows with love and sharing, the Pope highlighted the meaning of the word Fragility explaining that at the last supper “Jesus becomes fragile like the bread that is broken and crumbled. But his strength lies precisely therein.”

The Eucharist, the Pope said, “heals because it joins with Jesus: it makes us assimilate his way of living, his ability to be broken up and given to brothers and sisters, to respond to evil with good.” Concluding his catechesis, Pope Francis said the Lord “gives us the courage to go outside of ourselves and bend down with love toward the fragility of others. As God does with us: This is the logic of the Eucharist: we receive Jesus who loves us and heals our fragilities in order to love others and help them in their fragilities.
